The Importance of Teamwork

Many companies today look for employees who can work well with others. Teamwork is important because it helps people achieve goals more effectively. When people share ideas and responsibilities, work often becomes easier and more organized.

Last year, Daniel started a new job at a technology company. At first, he felt nervous because he did not know his colleagues very well. However, his manager was patient and helped him feel more confident. Daniel soon realized that working in a team had many benefits. His coworkers were reliable and always ready to help when problems appeared.

One of the biggest challenges for Daniel was learning how to manage his time. Sometimes the job was stressful because the team had strict deadlines. To improve his organization skills, Daniel began making daily schedules and setting clear priorities.

After several months, Daniel became more independent and responsible at work. He now recommends teamwork projects to students because they teach communication, problem-solving, and cooperation.

Writing (20pts total)

Topic: A Personal Challenge

Write a paragraph of 120–150 words about a challenge you experienced or would like to experience in the future.

You can write about:

- learning a new skill
- moving to a new place
- starting a new school or job
- traveling abroad
- joining a club or team

Include:

- what the challenge was
- how you felt
- what you did to improve
- what you learned from the experience

Moving to a new place

Moving to a new apartment is always a stressful change, but in my case was also moving to another province. In 2022 I decided to move to Ushuaia, Tierra del Fuego, 3000 km away from my home. I moved looking for a change, I changed my work and I started my new beginning, thinking that will make me grow personally.

I arrived in Ushuaia in February with the idea to be there for a year and after that, decide what to do. I really enjoyed my first year there, and decided to stay in Ushuaia for a bit longer, because I think that improve my social skills, learn how to walk in snow and ice, and enjoy walking to the mountains.

Nowadays, I'm living in Mendoza, a completely different climate, but the almost 2 years that I lived in Ushuaia were very good, I learned too much to be alone in a place, and I understood the need to be close to friends and family.

I don't regret my decision, and I encourage my past self to do it again.

Speaking (20pts total)

Discuss these questions with your teacher. Choose three questions out of these five:

1. Why is it important to learn new skills?
2. What are the benefits of studying abroad?
3. How can people become more independent?
4. What makes a person reliable and responsible?
5. Do you think young people today experience too much stress? Why?

The student communicates effectively and is easy to understand. He answers questions with relevant details and demonstrates good fluency during conversation. Although there are occasional grammatical and vocabulary inaccuracies, these do not significantly affect communication.
